DOTZ

HANDMADE IN BRAZIL

EST. 2017

Dotz wants to inspire a different way of doing business; an alternative system that promotes a balance between quality, sustainability and society.

It all starts with a handmade, innovative production method. The brand is always on the lookout for ways to make our products superior not only by design, but by component; starting from where our materials are sourced, to how they're put together. Their process is based on our belief that collaboration is a driving force for innovation.

Ultimately, the power for enacting this paradigm shift lies in the hand of the consumer. Every purchase is a choice. Make your voice heard.
